THE HUNTING EXPERIENCE AND THE PARTNERS YOU SHARE IT WITH ARE WHAT COUNT

Please add me on for another two years. Your publication is special to me. It stands for things that most men cannot achieve. You display trophy class animals that sometimes only the rich can access. But the hunts and the

BOONE AND CROCKETT SUPPORTS 4-H VOLUNTEER LEADERS

I want to thank you for the contribution the Boone and Crockett Club made to the 60th North American Wildlife and Natural Resources Conference. I was one of the six 4-H Volunteer Leaders who received the National Recognition Award on March 27th, 1995. The book, An American Crusade for Wildlife is quite an interesting history and insightful writing. It will certainly help me with my presentations to others about conservation and hunting.

Thanks Again,
Buz Meyer

I would like to express my appreciation for the opportunity to attend the 60th Wildlife and Natural Resources Conference. Thank you for your funding and contributions to the 4-H Wildlife and Fisheries Recognition Program and your year-round support for our youth and their state 4-H projects.

I hope to continue the leadership I have provided in the past and work to preserve the clarity and freshness of an earth that produces such color for the artist in all of us.

Sincerely,

trophies and the attitude that one can do it with the right hunting partners is a goal that drives me on.

I'm sending you a snapshot of two such hunting partners and a rack from a buck I took from the primitive area in Idaho in November of 1994. I saw this buck on the second day of a nine-day hunt. We camped in the snow at 7,300 feet for nine days without fires, we ate good, had fun, everyone got game and I got this buck on the ninth and last day of the season at 2 p.m. in the afternoon. I boned out this buck, took him to the bottom in one load and brought him back to camp after the end of the season with these guys' help. We got the "Crown Buck." My partners, Nick Ures and Leland Schneider, represent my idea of Boone and Crockett men.
