TOP: Bass Pro Shops staff member, Jim Millikin, marvels at the new World's Record tule elk on display at the 24th Awards Trophy Exhibit. This is the first Awards Program to include entries in the new tule elk category.

BOTTOM: Seventeen-year-old Clint Ream, receives a congratulatory handshake from Boone and Crockett Executive Director, George Bettas, for winning the Ruger Red Label 12-gauge shotgun in a raffle at the 24th Awards Banquet. Sturm, Ruger and Company, along with Bass Pro Shops, Leupold & Stevens, Mossy Oak Brand Camo, Remington, Bushnell, and Walker's Game Ear were all sponsors of the events surrounding the 24th Awards Program.

Boone and Crockett Club Member and Treasurer, Joseph Ostervich, was the proud winner of the Leupold Spotting Scope and tripod. Ostervich won the scope by guessing the score of a set of whitetail deer antlers on loan from Bass Pro Shops.

BELOW: 24th Awards Judges Panel Members John Stein and Larry Streiff draw a point base line with a measuring cable on the main beam of Patrick Taylor's non-typical Coues' whitetail. The buck was picked up in Pima County, Arizona, in 1997.

Members of the 24th Awards Judges Panel use calipers and a measuring tape to determine whether or not the projection on this caribou antler qualifies as a scorable point. To be considered a point, the projection must be at least one-half inch long, with length exceeding width at one-half inch or more.

BELOW: Albert C. England and Jack Graham mark the center line of the boss for measuring the length of the horn on M.R. James' First Award muskox. The bull scores 126-2/8 points and was taken with a bow.
