Eleven North American big game trophies taken by hunters in 2011 rank in the top 20 for their categories, including two new World's Records. One is official... Troy M. Sheldon's Rocky Mountain goat scoring 57-4/8 points. Sheldon's goat was panel verified this summer and took over as the new World's Record, topping two goats that held the number one spot—one that stood for over 60 years! The other top trophy is a pronghorn taken by Stan S. Jaksick in Nevada's Washoe County. This buck is a potential new World's Record and is awaiting panel verification before it can be officially recognized. The rest of the field of top trophies taken in 2011 is made up of another pronghorn, four elk, two sheep, plus a moose and a caribou.

Pronghorn

RANK: Potential World's Record
SCORE: 95-6/8 points
HUNTER: Stan S. Jaksick
DATE: August 2011

Jaksick (back row) harvested this potential new World's Record pronghorn in Washoe County, Nevada, in August 2011. The buck's score will need to be verified by a B&C Judges Panel before it can be officially declared a new World's Record. Jaksick shot the buck with a 7mm Remington Mag. pushing a 140-grain Nosler Ballistic tip bullet at 150 yards.
