

MEASURING TEST

See How Your Scoring Knowledge Stands Up to the Test!

OFFICIAL MEASURER
CONTINUING EDUCATION

Circle the single best answer for each question listed below.

Question 1: Club History

In 1887, when the Boone and Crockett Club was founded...

- a) there were commonly no closed hunting seasons or other regulations.
- b) the concept of "Fair Chase" was introduced in the bylaws.
- c) burning animals from their dens and "crusting" were against the B&C philosophy.
- d) all of the above.

Question 2: Category Boundaries

For records keeping purposes and definitions...

- a) trophies taken in Mexico are excluded.
- b) polar bear from Greenland are not accepted.
- c) polar bears and walrus are accepted from the US, Canada, Greenland and their associated waters.
- d) central South America is considered the southern extent from which trophies may be entered.

Question 3: Measuring Techniques

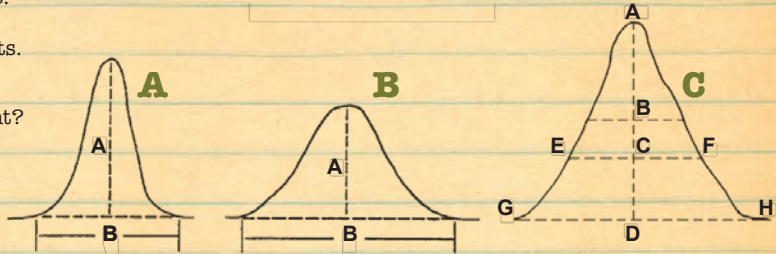

A folding carpenter's rule with a brass slide is indispensable for...

- a) taking main beam lengths.
- b) taking inside spread measurements.
- c) measuring circumferences.
- d) taking outside spread measurements.

Question 4: Measuring Techniques

Which diagram is not a qualifying point?

- a) A is > 1" B is < A
- b) A is > 1" B is > A
- c) GH is > AD, AB is 1" AC is > EF

Question 5: Measuring Techniques

Calipers are...

- a) optional for many circumstances.
- b) required for the measurement of the boss and horn width in musk ox.
- c) not accurate for cat and bear measurement.
- d) an instrument that requires no skill to use correctly.

Question 6: Mule and Blacktail Deer

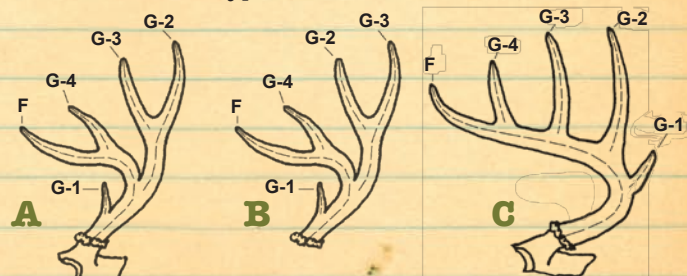

Which of the following statements is incorrect?

- a) All statements in the OM manual referring to mule deer pertain to Columbia and Sitka blacktail as well.
- b) Mule deer can have no more than five normal points per antler.
- c) Any additional points (other than five normal points per antler) are considered abnormal and so entered on the score chart.
- d) The hunter can select any five points per side to be measured as typical.

Question 7: Measuring Techniques

If a point is longer than one inch, it always qualifies as a point.

- a) True
- b) False

Question 8: Mule and Blacktail Deer

Which diagram correctly depicts a mule deer typical configuration?

Question 9: American, Roosevelt, and Tule Elk

A distinct difference in the appearance of Roosevelt's and tule elk versus the American elk is...

- a) American elk frequently demonstrate crown points.
- b) Roosevelt's elk have the smallest body mass.
- c) Roosevelt's and tule elk are more inclined to form crown points.
- d) American elk are often very asymmetrical.

Question 10: American, Roosevelt, and Tule Elk

Which statement is false?

- a) American elk bulls may have as many as seven, eight, or even more typical points arising from the main beam.
- b) Crown points on an American elk are typical.
- c) Crown points on Roosevelt's and tule elk occur on or above G-4.
- d) Typical points arise from the top of the main beam at roughly spaced intervals and are usually paired antler to antler.