

GRIZZLY RIDERS SUPPORT B&C WILDLIFE CONSERVATION PROGRAM

Boone and Crockett Club Members, Jack Ward Thomas, Paul Webster, Earl Morgenroth, and Dan Pletscher spent several very pleasant days in early September with a University of Montana-associated group called the Grizzly Riders. The Grizzly Riders meet annually at a rustic location in western Montana to fish, ride horses, and share stories with good friends.

Jack Thomas and Dan Pletscher were offered opportunities to make presentations to the group about the Boone and Crockett Wildlife Conservation Program, and joined with Earl and Paul to take about 18 Grizzly Riders to the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Ranch. The day was spectacular at the Ranch and Kelly Peebles provided a delicious lunch.

The Grizzly Riders were impressed with the B&C program and contributed $14,000 toward fellowships for Dr. Thomas' graduate students for the new year. All of the Grizzly Riders who attended are now Boone and Crockett Associates. In addition, The University of Montana, itself, contributed $61,000 to the Wildlife Conservation Program for research expenses this year.

Thank you, Grizzly Riders, for your support, and welcome to the Boone and Crockett Club!
